Quick Action Is Urged To Solve Price Problem

The inflation problem will not be solved until the public and our political leaders begin dealing with causes instead of tinkering with results," according to Morris Sayre, president of the national Association of Manufacturers.

Managers, workers, farmers, consumers—all are left just where they were before the national election—with a batch of unanswered problems that will be solved "only when we get our production is still in production."

Quick Action Needed
Something basic, drastic, and quick has to be done about inflation, he emphasized, adding that the story of inflation is simple and can be told in five words and two-and-a-half figures. "Inflation," he said, is simply a condition where demand for goods and services greatly exceeds supply.

Demand is money made to be used for goods and services. Money is made to be used for goods and services. Money is made to be used for goods and services.

This demand—this money owned by the people—being to increase in the early '50's, he revealed. "Then came the war and between 1939 and 1947 the money supply was tripled—increased from $10 billion to $30 billion."

Regulations Forbid Sale Of Wild Rabbits Here

Sale of wild rabbits in Louisville and Jefferson County was prohibited today as a violation of existing state and local regulations which require that all meat and meat products be inspected and passed by the City and County Board of Health.

Board of Health officials said that this step is necessary to "carry on the fight against tularemia, a serious disease of man contracted by eating or consuming sick rabbits." Dr. Bruce Underwood, State Commissioner of Health, called attention last week to the seriousness of this problem and the dangers that hunters encounter with rabbits.

Today's ruling, controlling the sale of rabbits on the public market, will block this particular avenue of infection.

"This is the usual procedure in large cities," Dr. John J. Phair, Director of Health, added, "and the removal of the commercial aspect of wild rabbits is one of the important measures to prevent tularemia."

Game Authorities Define A Legal Trap

FRANKFORT—Many hardware stores and sporting goods concerns are displaying for sale traps for sale of small mammals for use in Kentucky. Earl Wallace, director of the Division of Game and Fish, is warning such dealers that possession of such traps for sale is illegal.

Mr. Wallace pointed out that only certain types of traps as defined by the Commissioner may be used by trappers and use or possession of other traps are subject to confiscation and the owner liable to a fine. The enabling act for state trap regulations was approved in the 1948 session of the State Legislature.

The director pointed out that wholesalers may possess such traps for sale of small mammals but that retail dealers are barred by law from handling such devices.

Mr. Wallace warned that Conservation Officers are instructed to inspect dealers and inspect their line of traps, and if illegal types are found, they will be confiscated and the dealer fined.

State Farmers Convene Talk Price Supports

Around 500 authorized delegates from more than 100 Kentucky counties represented their organizations at the 31st annual Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation convention this week in Louisville. Hundreds of other farmers and their families attended, to make it the Federation's best attended convention.

BIBLE READINGS (Thanksgiving to Christmas)

The BOOK of ALL NATIONS

The Farm Bureau Queen contest started Monday morning. An estimated more than 2,000 persons tried to crowd into convention hall Monday night, to see it.

The program of work for 1949 adopted by the delegates showed that the Federation is continuing its high interest in price supports for farm products, soil conservation programs, rural roads, schools, health, a well known threat to the Department of Agriculture and the most feasible livestock disease eradication program that can be handled by available state funds.

The Associated Women of the Federation held their most successful session Monday, followed by a breakfast Tuesday morning. They, too, evidenced continuing interest in such things as rural health and school problems.

Delegates and visitors heard President Kline say that "the important thing is to get the money and free markets cannot be overestimated," and that farmers "well know that the higher prices for things they buy, while their own prices are being kept down." He pointed to the need for the "nation simply cannot afford to permit the farm economy to go too badly out of balance."

He pointed to the need for all groups in this country formulating policies with one end in view—a nine-point program for the attainment of a peaceful world.

Dr. F. Allen, state Farm Bureau president and Board member of the national, described the long-range program enacted by the Federation for the attainment of the most important pieces of legislation affecting farmers.

Community Council Organized At Penile

Farmers and residents of the Penile community have organized what they call the "Penile Community Council." Non-political and non-sectarian, the group aims to co-ordinate the efforts of all the other groups and organizations of the community toward a better, richer and happier community life. While there are no farmers in Penile, the group does have much in common, such as better schools, roads, service, recreation, conservation of wild life, forests, etc.

While they are just getting organized, over 100 are participating, and have a project under way to protect and propagate game and song birds on at least 15,000 acres. Also the planning of at least 10,000 plants of Multiflora Roses for building fences, and the planting of a large number of trees to protect the beauty of the landscape.

For their next regular meeting on November 30 the guest speaker will be Tom Wallace, one of Kentucky's foremost conservationists, and other entertainment. The public is invited.

BE MARKET WISE
 By Miriam Kelley Field Agent in Marketing and Consumer Information, Department of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, U.S.D.A. Co-operating.

Come the day after Thank-giving, the housewife is confronted with the problem of what to do with the rest of that delicious meat. No, she would not want to tire her family of it, but plan to use it every bit in new and different ways. Food specialists at the University of Kentucky have come to our aid with two suggestions for using the left-over turkey, or even chicken. These recipes are different, and the luscious meat comes to the table in an entirely new and interesting dish.

There's Turkey Loaf! 4 cups diced cooked turkey, 1 T. salt, 1 small can pimiento, 1 small onion, 1 cup chopped celery, may leaf, 3 cups stock, 3 T. gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water. Reduce the turkey stock by boiling to three cups, or add water to make that amount.
 Add celery to broth and cook until well seasoned, then add onion and may leaf the last few minutes.
 Strain. Add cold water to gelatin, then add boiling broth. Let cool. Pour into a greased mold and congeal. (8-10 servings.) Turkey Loaf can be made the center of interest for a luncheon party, or evening buffet—a real treat not to be overlooked in your planning.

For turkey in loaf that's hot, this recipe for Shredded Turkey will fill the bill. 4 cups finely shredded turkey, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup chopped pimiento, 2 cups cracker or bread crumbs, 1 cup milk or turkey stock, 1/2 teaspoon salt.
 Separate eggs, beat egg yolks until fluffy. Soak crumbs in liquid and add other ingredients except egg white. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold into turkey mixture.
 Pour into buttered casserole, place casserole in a pan of water and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until firm. Thus you have a light and fluffy food, especially liked to follow the heavier meals of the holiday.

Still we must go to market, for there will not be enough of the left-overs to carry for many meals. So let's take a look at what you may expect to find in good supply and reasonable in price. Florida citrus fruits continue to be a good buy, oranges and grapefruit good quality, full of juice. You may expect to find oranges with better keeping qualities, which will help the housewife who likes to buy oranges by the bag. Onions of all kinds are good quality, low in price, there are several varieties of potatoes, though since potatoes are mostly coming out of storage, prices may be expected to go up through the next several weeks. So buy now if you want them in quantity for storing at home. Apples, most any variety, by the pound or by the bushel, are a good buy from the standpoint of the price and from the standpoint of food value. Caution though, you'll find the fancy apples high in price.

In buying vegetables, it might be well for you to check the price of fresh frozen foods against the price of fresh vegetables. For example, a 12 ounce package of green beans may cost much less than an equivalent amount of fresh green beans, to say nothing in the saving in time to the housewife.

King's Church News
 By Mrs. Lowell Owen

There were 144 in Sunday School Sunday morning and 84 in B.T.U. The Thanksgiving offering for the Baptist Childrens Homes was $260 and 132 quarts of fruits and vegetables and more to bring yet, don't know at this writing just how many more cans will be brought in.

Rev. Wade Hale, Mrs. Hale and little Judy will spend the Thank-giving holidays with their folks in South Carolina and will return the following Wednesday. I don't know who will supply for us while Rev. Hale is away.

There were 12 who went to the B.T.U. Rally at Busch Friday evening from Kings and they brought back the Milage banner.
 The Kings W.M.S. met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Irene Whitehouse with 17 members present, 3 visitors and 8 children in the morning. A study course was taught by Mrs. Wade Hale. In the afternoon the program was given and an offering was taken to buy Mr. Paget some coal. The day was enjoyed by all and the next meeting will be held in December in the home of Mrs. Myrtle Owen.
 Mrs. Irene Whitehouse and daughters were guests Friday afternoon of Mrs. Thomas Knapp.

 house had a new Florence electric stove installed this week in gen, Mrs. Claude Cornell, Mrs.

 Edna Brown, Mrs. Lisa McGill, Mrs. Billy Cutsinger, Mrs. Ben Tyler, Mrs. Roy Smith and sons, Stevens who brought Mrs. Whitehouse a tray laden with every thing good to eat from ham to desert. It was enjoyed very much by Mrs. Whitehouse.

Shows Early Planting Of Strawberries Pay

That early planting of strawberries pays was seen recently on the farm of Wallace Kaufman in Jefferson County, states H. C.
 Brown, associate county agent.
 In March, Thomas and Mary Lee Kaufman, 4-H club members, increased their patch of Tennessee Beauties by planting an additional acre. Due to wet weather, the setting of a new patch of Premier berries was delayed until late April. The two patches were inspected on October 1. The early planted Tennessee Beauties were found to have made excellent growth with a promise of a good yield in 1949, while the later planted patch was spotty and had about half the growth of the other variety.

ANNUAL BAZAAR OF THE Crawford Christian Church is arranged for November 27 at the church. The affair begins at 10 a.m. and oyster stew, chicken salad, homemade pies and coffee will be served throughout the day.

It cost $251,000,000 for maintenance of the entire Navy in 1935; in 1949 the Navy's food bill alone was over $670,000,000.

Smyrna News
 By Mrs. E. N. Rush

We had a nice Thanksgiving service at Penn Run Church yesterday and the work is going fine under the leadership of our new glad to have Mr. Edgar Coe and two children with us again.

Mrs. Peyton Hall was delighfully entertained with a surprise birthday party Saturday night given by her children—Mr. and Mrs. George Pawson, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Hall and Freda, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Haag and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hall and Eddie.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren McCaul-

Newburg News

By Mrs. H. B. Shively

The congregation at Newburg is never disappointed in hearing a good Gospel sermon by the pastor, Bro. Wayne Spangler; and an inspirational singing.

We have such a capable song leader, Mr. Ricketson, who has a rich baritone voice. Each Sunday we enjoy a "special" by the choir. At the close of the sermon Sunday morning, there was our Sunday School girls, two from Mrs. Stiver's class and one from Mrs. Carl Perry's class, made the good confession.

Bro. Spangler will organize a C.Y.F. for the teen-age girls and boys. The first meeting will be Sunday evening. All young people are welcome.

Next Sunday, November 28, Mr. Ricketson will sing "The Holy City" at the 11 o'clock service. Come and hear him, we know it will be beautiful.

Mr. J. S. Hart, of Louisville, spent the day Saturday with his sisters at Newburg.

Mr. Joe Haering is again in possession of his truck and contents that was stolen from his place about six weeks ago. Be sure your sin will find you out.

Mr. Woodridge is cleaning up the ground back of the church, burning the dead grass, etc., which not only improves the looks, but may prevent a fire hazard for the church property.

Mr. Bill Ricketson was after church dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Shobe, Sunday.

So glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Standford working with us Sunday, also welcome two visitors, and were sorry they did not stay for church, also are visitor was a niece of Mrs. Kramer.

So glad to hear good reports from Miss Carolyn Hart, she is missed greatly in the choir.

We still miss the Kaufman families also Mrs. Kern Wollett, Mr. Newman and Mrs. P. A. Davis.

Mrs. J. H. Shively, home department superintendent of the Newburg Sunday School, and her assistant, Mrs. Fielden Frederick, made another canvass Thursday in the interest of members. They were very much encouraged, received great welcome in every home, and up to the present time we have 11 members enrolled.

Mrs. R. J. Cook accompanied us and got three babies for her cradle roll. We also invited folks to the services and several promised to come to the evening service. So our mission was threefold. Mr. Frederick deserves much credit, for he furnished the way for us to go. Lastly we visited the old Jim Subitt home, now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Mickler and son and Mr. John Subitt. Mrs. Mickler (formerly Fatti May Subitt) received us very graciously and showed us over the house which has been so modernized. One can hardly believe it is the same place. It is very homely and beautiful. They have many more improvements to make and she insists that we come back when it is completed.

So glad to hear Fairview Church is going forward in a great way. A new sign has been installed in the church yard and a C.Y.F. group has been organized.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hindle were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Cook and Mr. J. H. Shively Wednesday, Mrs. C. H. Frey kindly brought them over and then made some other calls at Newburg.

A nice crowd at the evening service and a good sermon subject, "Bible Religion."

Mr. Robert Smith, who so kindly plays the piano for the evening service, favored us with a piano selection. The youth group occupied the choir and sang several peppy choruses led by Bro. Ricketson. Mr. Baltimore from the Seminary was present.

daughter were brought home from the hospital Saturday and are both getting along nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Hornbuckle, P-T-A. meeting. What's the matter with our secretary

High View News

By Mrs. Joe Baile

Bro. Edward Schreiner brought a fine message Sunday morning from the seventeenth chapter of Luke on how ungrateful nine of the men were that were cleansed from leprosy. Then Sunday night being the third Sunday we had singing which we always enjoy very much.

We all were very glad indeed to have Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cox and family back in church again. They recently sold their place and moved to Indiana but now they have bought the old Gentry place and we welcome them back to our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. William Yocom were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Downing and little girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hermanson and Mrs. Edith Roby were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nefmith, of Fern Creek.

Mrs. Emma Wright was sick with a cold Sunday.

These youngsters really had an enjoyable night together.

I want to make a correction from last week. It was Miss Margaret Weathers who spent the week-end with Mrs. Sadie Downing, instead of Mary Lindsey as I stated, sorry to have got the names mixed up.

Billy Ray Boston was sick all last week but was able to be to his grandparents Sunday afternoon. Other callers in the Goins home were Mr. and Mrs. Thea Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Shepherd and children, Bro. and Sister Watson and three boys, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Goins.

Mrs. Helen Roby and little of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hornbuckle.

I am sorry to have missed the P-T-A. meeting. What's the matter with our secretary
